HELPFUL HINTS

When can I stop using my former account?

When you decide to move your account to American Bank, it's best to stop using the account at your former financial institution as soon as possible. Before you can fully close your former account, you'll want to make sure that all checks, debits and Automated Payments through online banking or your debit card have cleared. This could take several days to a few weeks.

How do I change my Social Security Direct Deposit?

We recommend that you call the Social Security Administration Office at 800-772-1213 or visit www.ssa.gov. See page two of this document for other helpful contact information.

What if I missed one of my Automatic Payments?

We recommend that you use the Online Bill Pay Form (found on page 6) to ensure you have a complete picture of what you currently pay automatically from your account. Be sure to monitor your former financial statement to ensure that all automatic payments have successfully transferred to your new account at American Bank before you close your former account.

What is the best way for me to fill out these forms?

It is really up to you. You can get a copy on our website or at any of our full service offices. You have the option to fill it out while at our office, take it home with you to fill-in and return either in person or via mail, or you can scan a copy and email it your secure source. We just caution that if you choose to email these forms, to any source, that you verify it's going to a secure portal. These forms contain personal information and you want to make sure it doesn't fall into the wrong hands.
